

Wheat Measure Goes to Test in the House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate wheat bill, capped by a surprise $35,000,000 on government price supports to any one farm or farmer, goes to the House Monday. The Senate vote there is uncertain. The stopgap legislation dealing with the nation's big wheat surplus was hammered out Friday in more than eight hours of Senate floor debate and voting. Unless the Senate and House agree on a bill and President Eisenhower signs it before June 1, the present law probably must continue. The House has been working on its own wheat bill. Even before the Senate approved its wheat program for the next two years, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson formally announced his "recommendations" to the House. Benson contended that it would not reduce production and probably would add to the costs of a program that has taken several billion dollars in recent years. Most senators agreed that something must be done about billions of bushels of surplus wheat piled largely in government hands. But agreeing on a solution was a different matter. The first Senate decision was approval of the $35,000,000 crop support for any farm. Under the farm support laws, the producer turns the crop over to the government unless he can make a profit by paying back the loans and selling on the market. As the bill went to the House, it retained the present 55-million-bushel base wheat allotment and gave farmers three choices: They could plant their present allotments and get a support of 65 per cent of parity or about $1.52 a bushel. They could reduce 20 per cent below allotments and get a support of 80 per cent of parity or about $1.89. Or they could reduce 40 per cent in plantings and receive 75 per cent of parity, about $1.70 a bushel.

Democratic Programs Enhanced

WASHINGTON (AP) — A walk-out victory by House Democrats in their battle for large-scale federal housing aids, enhanced prospects today for other Democratic programs. By a luster 201-160 vote Thursday, the House passed a Democratic-backed $2,100,000,000 housing bill over upstaging every Republican effort to whittle it down to administration size. The result put Congress squarely at odds with President Eisenhower in the politically tinged battle over spending versus the balanced budget. A more immediate result was to generate new steam behind proposals for a billion dollars of federal aid for local public works projects, and a quarter-billion dollars of government loans and grants to assist depressed areas. House passage of the housing bill now sends it to conference with the Senate to compromise differences. The Senate earlier this session voted a $2,900,000,000 program. Republicans were counting on a presidential veto if the bill sticks to present lines. None of the Thursday major votes gave the Democrats the two-thirds majority they would need to override a veto. Presidential displeasure appears certain to be centered on authority for continuing government-subsidized low-rent public housing. President Eisenhower in his January message to Congress asked for an end to public housing. But the Senate voted to subsidize 45,000 new units; the House 140,000 new units over four years at the rate of $5,000 a year.

High School Youth Drowns in River

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Billy Talley, 16, drowned in the White River here yesterday when swift current dragged him under as he was trying to swim across the stream. Officers said Jimmy Burns, 13, tried to save Talley and almost drowned himself. Burns, of Little Rock, is attending Batesville High because Little Rock schools have been closed against integration. Talley reportedly was wearing blue jeans for swimming trunks. He was about halfway across the river—200 yards wide at that point—when he went under.

Weather

Mostly cloudy with scattered showers and thunderstorms tonight and Sunday. No important temperature changes.

Blue Ridge Mountain Tour Begins With Roanoke, Va.

ROANOKE IS A MECCA for motorists from nine states who come to explore the primitive beauty of the Blue Ridge Mountains in Virginia and North Carolina. After viewing the city from Mill Mountain with its giant neon star and Children's zoo, the Magic Circle south is over Blue Ridge Parkway, a skyline boulevard to the resort town of Blowing Rock; Grandfather Mountain; Linville Caverns; Mt. Mitchell, highest peak east of the Mississippi; and the friendly city of Asheville. North of Roanoke is Natural Bridge; Lexington, home of Washington & Lee University and Virginia Military Institute; the Peaks of Otter, on another section of the pleasure parkway.

Editor's Note: This is the 25th in a series of suggested highway tour maps which the Hope Star is publishing weekly. The series will cover the South and Southwest during the fall and winter months and the Northern sections in the spring. This is excellent material to cut out and paste up in a scrapbook for future reference when planning your vacation trip.

By EDWARD COLLIER

Nine states form a Magic Circle around the misty grandeur of the Blue Ridge Mountains and the famed pleasure parkway in the sky through Virginia and North Carolina. Roanoke, fast-growing Virginia metropolis, is a motorist's mecca for weekend trips from Tennessee, Kentucky, West Virginia, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland and South Carolina. As a base of operations there are two miracle miles of plush motels, as well as a famed hotel that has thoughtfully preserved its grounds for parking.

For an introduction to the city and Roanoke Valley we drove up Mill Mountain. This pride of Roanoke, within the city limits, has a giant, man-made, five-point neon star that is a welcome beacon for miles in every direction. Aside from the panorama, Mill Mountain has a fascinating Children's storybook zoo, where you often see grown-folk squatting down with their youngsters, absorbed in the life of Prairie Dog Town. Glamour Time Fall is glamour time along the lawn-bordered Blue Ridge Parkway, built not to speed transcontinental traffic but for the enjoyment of all U. S. citizens who love the outdoors. The spunky, azure mist is a backdrop for the flaming autumn kaleidoscope of vermilion, russet, purple, gold and green that frames every turn and tunnel.

The Magic Circle to this pageantry leads south to the Blue Ridge Parkway at Abney Gap. From here every view is a new and breathtaking view from the picture window of your windshield, whatever the time of year. There are quaint and photogenic old mountain cabins, pioneer split rail fences, countless short tunnels through rock cliffs, ribbon-slender waterfalls and occasional homely roadside stands where the country folk sell their jars of honey, preserves and cleverly woven baskets. For the 250 miles of Asheville, North Carolina, we didn't see a curio stand, advertising sign or telephone wire to mar nature's handiwork, except on a few intervals of state roads where the parkway is not completed.

Only guides are the carved wooden signposts erected by the National Park Service, each carrying the squirrel rifle and powder horn insignia. The names on these signs are collector's items: Devil's Garden, Roaring Gap, Fox Hunters Paradise, Devils Backbone, Fancy Gap, Sweet Annie Hollow, Horse Gap. Our first stop was to see and photograph Mabry Mill, which was operated from 1910 to 1935 as a gristmill, sawmill, tannery and a blacksmith shop. Well into the 20th century, the mountain community often depended upon one mill.

Continued on Page Two

Quake Strikes New Zealand

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — A 15-second earthquake rocked Wellington tonight, causing some damage and plunging a third of the city into darkness. Windows were broken, chimneys fell and articles were thrown off shelves. Shoppers screamed as floors trembled, walls cracked and the lights went out. The quake centered about 50 miles from Wellington.

Ike Declares Economy at Home a Must

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that without a sound economy at home, the United States could soon become powerless abroad. In this time of armed international uncertainty, an unstable home front economy could jeopardize "our prosperity, our security, our freedom," he said. Eisenhower sounded a new call for prudence in federal spending in a speech prepared for ceremonies dedicating a new auditorium at historic St. John's College. The auditorium, part of a $2,100,000 complex of new buildings on the campus, is named for Francis Scott Key, composer of "The Star Spangled Banner" and who was a graduate of St. John's. Eisenhower flew here from Washington by helicopter for the ceremony, taking off from the White House grounds. He landed on the campus, a few yards from the auditorium, after a 22-minute flight. Twenty-five descendants of Key were on hand for the ceremony.

During his remarks to the site on the campus of the third oldest college in the United States, Eisenhower spoke of the importance of education for an understanding of world affairs.

He made a point of saying the proper term today is "world affairs," that "there are no longer foreign affairs and foreign policy." "We have discovered that we cannot separate what we do abroad from what we do at home. We have found that our efforts to promote a free flow of world trade are hurt wherever there exists an unreasonable demand for protectionism among our own people," he said. Then Eisenhower indirectly prodded Congress anew to revise the farm program.

"We have learned that our interest in stable world markets is compromised by an outdated farm program which stimulates and subsidizes a tremendous farm surplus which overhangs the exchanges of the world," Eisenhower said.

"We have learned that unnecessary spending at home may foreclose our essential spending abroad. We have learned that the fate of our own nation is bound up with the fate of others. Our whole position in world affairs is determined by the health of our economy and the soundness of our money. The concerns of 'foreign' policy are not something remote and apart from the rest of our activities; they are deeply rooted in the very center of our local personal pursuits day by day."

Declares New Movement Is Diversionary

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A new group — seeking the pastor of all six Little Rock School Board members appeared today. Spoken for two opposing factions seeking recall of three members each from the board promptly declared the new movement was a "diversionary tactic." Each spokesman used that same word, "diversionary." A newspaper advertisement by the Recall-All Committee, said "a denuded school board was responsible for the recall election," and recalling either half of this divided board would solve nothing. The advertisement was signed by James A. Griffey as chairman. Griffey is a printer for the Arkansas Democrat and a former Little Rock alderman. A representative of the new committee said it had no ties with integrationists, segregationists or Gov. Orval E. Faubus. Faubus will tell the public about his stand on the school board recall election in a radio-television speech tonight.

Castro Fears His Program Will Lose

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Fidel Castro says his family stands to lose by Cuba's new agrarian reform program chopping up big estates. The Prime Minister told newsmen his family owns 2,173 acres of sugar land which will be reduced by the law to 1,000.

Woman, 11 Men Held in Plot to Export Arms

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A pretty woman, 11 men were arrested by the government today in a plot to export war materials illegally after agents bounced on an arms-shipping plan. The four-engine C-47 was reported bound for the Dominican Republic to arm forces of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro. Fulgencio Batista, ousted by Castro last New Year's eve, is in exile at the Dominican capital, Ciudad Trujillo. Thirteen persons in all, including the Dominican Republic's consul at Miami, were arrested Friday and placed in bond. Charged also with conspiring to bribe a federal officer were, Consul Augustus Ferrando; Joseph Liguori, 28-year-old Miami policeman, and Leonard Trenton, 35, a building materials dealer from Newark, N.J.

The plane, 200,000 cartridges and a quantity of rifles and automatic weapons were seized by customs officers as the plane was warming up at Miami International Airport. The officers arrested Virginia L. Bland, 36, and Samuel E. Pole Jr., 34, the pilots, and 10 others at the scene. Ferrando was persuaded six hours later by telephone to quit his refuge in the consulate and surrender. Jose Paulino, assistant consul, was indicted as a material witness.

Red-haired Miss Bland, wearing corduroy pants, and Pole told newsmen they had been hired by Domingo Barreiro, plane owner, to fly to Puerto Rico.

"If I had known there were arms and ammunition on the plane I never would have agreed to fly it," Pole said. Trento told newsmen with a grin that the guns and ammunition were going to Chiang Kai-shek, Nationalist China chieftain. John Embury of Tampa said he had no idea what the plane's cargo was when he was hired as flight engineer. William Brookley, 30, a University of Miami engineering student, said he was an innocent bystander. "I should have stayed at school today," he said. Paulino said: "It came nothing about this case. It came as a big surprise."

Smaller Car Planned by Gen. Motors

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — General Motors announced today it would have a "smaller and lighter car" called the Corvair in its 1960 model line. A similar auto will be built by GM's affiliate in Canada. Ted G. Donner, chairman of the GM board and its chief executive officer, told more than 2,000 stockholders at the firm's annual meeting here that the new car—to be introduced this fall—will contain features "new to the American automotive industry." Retaining an air of mystery around the Corvair, Donner declined to disclose any details. It has been reported, however, that the smaller, more compact Chevrolet would have a rear aluminum engine.

The GM announcement followed by a day disclosures by the Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. that they planned to build smaller American cars to meet competition of European, Japanese and American Motors' Rambler and Studebaker's Lark.

Bids Taken on Barton Building

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Barton Construction Co., of Oklahoma City, submitted an apparent low bid of $1,670,000 yesterday on construction of the nine-story Barton Institute for Medical Research at the Medical Center here.

Parkin Printing Co., of Little Rock was apparent low bidder at $282,000 on laboratory equipment for the building. Col. and Mrs. T. H. Barton of El Dorado and the Barton Foundation contributed $800,000 toward the estimated two million dollar cost of the center. The federal government will provide about one million dollars and the rest will be made up from private donations.

Construction can start within a month if the University of Arkansas Board of Trustees approves the bids at its next meeting.

Lightning Kills a Conway Man

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — One Conway man was killed and another injured yesterday when lightning struck a tree under which they were standing on the bank of nearby Lake Conway. Dead was W. Clifford Thompson, 38, owner of a men's clothing store, and former member of the Conway City Council.

Tabernacle in 25th Year

Rev. Bert Webb

HOPE, GOSPEL Tabernacle will conclude its 25th year observance Sunday and guest speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Bert Webb, a former pastor of the local church, and now assistant general superintendent of Assemblies of God, Springfield, Mo.

Newly Organized Auxiliary Has Thrift Shop Going to Help Aid Underprivileged

By MARY ANITA LASETER

A fresh coat of paint and some enthusiastic ladies have turned one small building on Candy Street into the Thrift Shop, the chief money-making project of the Hope Junior Auxiliary. The front entrance is flanked by two large containers of colorful petunias which offer a warm welcome to one and all to come inside.

Organized in April, the local chapter of the Junior Auxiliary held its initial meeting in May. At that time the 26 active members elected Mrs. Fred Ellis as their president. The Nashville Junior Auxiliary is the sponsoring chapter.

The projects committee is making a survey of the needs of the community, and the local Auxiliary members have pledged their cooperation with the Hempstead County Health Nurse and plan to assist as chaperones at the Youth Center.

Other worthwhile projects will receive their helpful attention as the need arises. In order for the organization to be prepared for this work, the Thrift Shop is being opened from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. each Friday and from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. each Saturday. Mrs. Lamar Cox is chairman of the group of members at the Thrift Shop. Other members of her committee are Mrs. Dick Watkins, Mrs. George Peck and Mrs. A. L. Page.

It is stressed that the Thrift Shop is not a Rummage Sale but a place where good, second-hand clothing and household items may be purchased. The proceeds are used to help others, and thus show why the Junior Auxiliary provides the members with channels of work to help her realize that she is not an onlooker, but is herself a vital part of her community.

What is the Junior Auxiliary? In its Handbook of Information, we are told that the purpose of the Junior Auxiliary is to foster interest among its members in the social, economic, educational, civic, and cultural conditions about them; to encourage members to render service of humanitarian nature to underprivileged children in their communities; to co-operate with civic groups performing similar services.

The first Junior Auxiliary was organized just 18 years ago on November 3, 1941 by about 100 women representing organizations in ten towns in Mississippi and Arkansas. The Association had in 1957 grown to 38 chapters in four states with over 3,000 members.

Special Presbyterian Services Sunday

There will be a special Service Sunday morning, May 24th at 10:55 a. m. Officers of the Church will take part in the Service. Crit Stuart, Jr. will present New Testaments to two Senators, Mr. Dennis Paddle and Thomas Foster.

There will be no evening worship service this Sunday, May 24th. The members of our Church have been invited to attend a special service at the Washington Presbyterian Church at 7:45 p. m. At this service, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. May Jr., will present their son, Jay Steven May, to God in Baptism.

The conference ended its second full week last evening, the same day in which it finished the first with Grumky insisting that a German settlement must begin with a peace treaty and the western ministers arguing that reunification must come first.

Senators Can Study Four Wheat Plans

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators had a choice of at least four widely varying wheat programs today as they tried to choose a way to ease mounting grain surpluses.

It appeared likely that no matter what their decisions, the present wheat program—which helped build up the huge grain stocks—must continue another year.

On June 1—just 10 days away—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson must announce a new national wheat program. Present law requires an allotment of at least 55 million acres and a support price of not less than 75 per cent of parity.

Parity is a price determined under farm law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs. Both the Senate and House would have to agree on a new program before June 1 to make it effective for the coming year. The House, working on a different program, is not expected to act on it before that date.

Wheat is grown under strict production controls, with each farmer allotted a specific number of acres for his crop. He is penalized if he grows more. But despite sharp acreage cutbacks, the amount of wheat grown has greatly exceeded that sold. The government holds more than a full year's supply obtained under price support loans.

How to cut production still further without hurting the farmers who grow the wheat has become a major problem. Benson, who has had difficulty winning congressional approval of his farm plans, wants to lower wheat price supports over the next three years, and gradually let farmers grow as much wheat as they want. His theory is that lower prices will cause many farmers to quit growing wheat.

U.S., Russia Putting Heat on Each Other

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union put heat on each other today in a battle up with Big Four conference concessions which could pave the way for a summer summit meeting.

The Soviet pressure came from Moscow where Premier Nikita Khrushchev was reported to have warned the West German ambassador that he would sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany if there was no agreement meeting.

This threat, made to Ambassador Hans Kroll in a private talk at the Geneva foreign ministers Thursday, was being examined by Western delegations for its possible significance in relation to the conference. Diplomats noted Khrushchev did not specify what agreement he has in mind, and they believe enough agreement will be reached to assure a summit meeting.

From the American side, the pressure on the Soviets came in the form of a statement saying that after two weeks of argument the time has come for Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to produce proposals on German unification, the Berlin crisis and European security, which the Western powers will be glad to examine.

The statement, issued Friday night by Asst. Secretary of State Andrew W. Cordell, was effecting a U.S. move to contact Moscow during the weekend Big Four recess and get authority to modify his position in the conference.

Both the Soviet and American actions appeared to be maneuvers in a war of nerves between Gromyko and the Western ministers to force a breakthrough in the present stalemate. Gromyko's statement was a direct challenge to the Western position. This is a serious move, which some nations will have to be taken into account in the summit meeting and the Berlin crisis.

Khrushchev's apparent eagerness to get to the summit is about the only effective bargaining weapon the West has in negotiating to ease the Berlin situation. Khrushchev's separate peace treaty threat is the same weapon turned around. It is a way of saying that unless the West agrees to a summit, session the Soviets will go through with their plan to treat East Germany as a sovereign state with control over Allied supply lines to West Berlin. That could produce an extremely dangerous situation, which the Western powers are anxious to avoid.

The conference ended its second full week last evening, the same day in which it finished the first with Grumky insisting that a German settlement must begin with a peace treaty and the western ministers arguing that reunification must come first.

Too Old to Understand Curtain Fuss

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

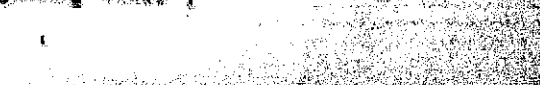

BAD HERSFELD, Germany (AP) — "I'm too old to understand this fuss about an Iron Curtain," said 84-year-old Grandma Elise Becker. And off she walked across the 10-yard "death strip" to have a birthday coffee with her nephew in Communist East Germany.

She lives in Kleinhesselo, West Germany, while Wilhelm Stein, her nephew, is a resident of Grosse, just 200 yards across the border, in Communist East Germany. Because there is no authorized border crossing in the vicinity, she was told she'd have to travel roundabout 100 miles to reach her nephew.

"This sounds like utter nonsense," Grandma Becker said. She took her walking stick and reached her nephew's home in a quarter of an hour. After an hour's chat, she started back. She walked smack into a Communist patrol.

"At my age, you can't expect a woman to make a 100-kilometer detour just for a cup of coffee," she told the East German officer.

The officer escorted her to the border with a polite farewell and no fuss.

All those small cars make it necessary for pedestrians to look right, left—and down.

SOCIETY

Phone 7-3431 Between 8 A. M. and 4 P. M.

Calendar

Saturday, May 23
A gift tea honoring Miss Nancy Frazier of Washington, bride-elect of Charles Downs of Little Rock, will be an event of Saturday, May 23 from 3 to 4 o'clock at the country home of Mrs. Ira Turner near Washington. Hostesses are Mrs. Vernon Messer, Mrs. Moss Rowe, Miss Mary Margaret Hayes, Miss Cherry Etter, Miss Mary Ruth Gathoun and Mrs. Turner.

Tuesday, May 26
The Cosmopolitan Club will close its club year with a dinner meeting at the Diamond Cafe on Tuesday, May 26, at 7 p. m.
Mrs. C. C. McNeill will present her piano pupils in a recital on Tuesday, May 26, at 7:30 p. m. in the Hope High School auditorium. The public is invited.

Chapter AE of the P. E. O. will meet at 3 p. m. Tuesday, May 26, in the home of Mrs. Lynn Harris with Mrs. L. B. Tooley as co-hostess.

Wednesday, May 27
Pupils of Miss Boss Evans will present a piano recital Wednesday, May 27 at 7:30 p. m. in the Hope High School auditorium. The public is invited.

Meirrose H. D. Club Met in Betty's Home

The Meirrose Home Demonstration Club met May 12 in the home of Mrs. Sam Belts for the regular monthly meeting.

The meeting began with the singing of "America" followed by the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison.

The devotionals was given by the hostess. The business session was presided over by the president Mrs. Otto Roberts.

Plans were completed for the picnic at Narrows.

Mrs. Wylie gave a report on the queen contest. It was decided to run Miss Glenda Hunkabe for queen of the Livestock Show.

Plans were made to meet May 13 in the home of Mrs. Virgil Hunkabe to make bandages for the cancer drive.

The program was presented by the home furnishing leader on the remodeling and care of furniture.

The surprise package was won by Mrs. M. S. Willis. Game prizes were won by Mrs. J. F. Mangum and Mrs. Virgil Hunkabe.

The next meeting will be at Fair Park.

Junior Daffodil Garden Club Meets at Paisley School

The Junior Daffodil Garden Club met in Paisley School auditorium Wednesday, May 20.

Donal McAdams read the minutes and Ronald Ingram led the group in singing. "This is My Father's World."

Following the program delicious refreshments were served.

Miss Becky O'Dell Feted With Bridal Shower

Miss Becky O'Dell bride-elect of Glenn A. Parks, Jr. of Lewisville was honored with a bridal shower Tuesday evening, May 19 in the home of Mrs. Cobbin Foster with Mrs. Harley Sisson as co-hostess.

Decorations for the occasion were pink roses.

The honoree and her mother, Mrs. Gilbert O'Dell were presented with corsages of pink roses.

After the gifts were opened sherry and individual cakes were served to the guests.

Shower Springs 4-H Club Met in Allen Home

Shower Springs 4-H Club met May 19 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Allen.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Ida Nell England. Judy England gave the devotional from Psalms 100. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. Songs were led by Linda Kay Reece, songleader.

The secretary, Brenda Neel, called the roll and read the minutes. The president led the national 4-H club emblem and welcomed a new member, Eddy Byers.

After the business session, the club adjourned to meet in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reece, June 18.

Coming and Going

Retired Admiral Paul B. Koonce

and his wife from Clearwater, Florida will return home Monday after visiting his mother, Mrs. J. B. Koonce.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

Blue Ridge

Continued From Page One

man's ingenuity to produce many of the necessities of life. To the delight of artists and those with movie cameras, the long slued box still carries the water to a level with the top of the mill where it falls onto the giant water wheel.

This picture-postcard land starts its panorama of color in early spring. First are the wildflowers, then white dogwood and frequent groves of blooming apple orchards that look like great white floral puffs, ready to roll down the mountainside. Vivid color comes with the miles of flame azaleas and rhododendrons; they border the parkway and grow over the hills, reaching a size and perfection that would make even the professional gardener jealous.

Hidden Towns

The little towns hidden off the parkway have quaint names too; names that intrigue you into turning your car down side roads. My favorites are Meadows of Dan; Little Switzerland, a resort community of gabled brown stained buildings perched on rocky ridges; and Blowing Rock, named after a colorful crag where the wind is never idle.

Blowing Rock is a clean little resort community of gray-green stone buildings, art galleries and homes that sit into the mountain landscape. Boulding at the seams nine months of the year, you have the feeling that the permanent 600 residents and noted artists have a happy good life even when the tourists are gone.

Looming over this Blue Ridge beauty area is Grandfather Mountain, which from a distance, is a stern and almost forbidding-looking pahlarch. The road to the summit goes past some of the oldest formations in the world; such as Sphinx Rock. There is a parking area at the mile high suspension foot bridge on Grandfather Mountain, a favorite with shutterbugs.

Old Twists

To add a touch of nostalgia as well as tourist cash — they imported Twists to the Blowing Rock area in 1937 via truck and highway. This old narrow-gauge steam railroad engine and its three coaches now provide a three-mile scenic trip for the visiting motorists.

Near the southern end of the parkway is towering Mount Mitchell, highest peak east of the Mississippi. A road leads to the summit for a stunning view from the stone observation tower. Explorer Elisha Mitchell is buried at the foot of the tower.

From the friendly and hospitable city of Asheville, you can plan your own Magic Circle trip back to Roanoke via any one of the good valley highways. But we chose to return via Blue Ridge Parkway because there were so many intriguing side trips that we had missed on the way down. This includes the Linville Caverns and Boone, a town of old world charm where we saw "Horned the West" the drama about Daniel Boone that is presented annually in the town's outdoor amphitheater.

From Roanoke north, there is another Magic Circle that encompasses an area rich in history, scenic beauty, great colleges — and apples. The route (U.S. 11) through the Shenandoah Valley is vividly green most of the year, snow white in spring with apple blossoms. All seasons it is an imposing countryside of prosperous farms and estates.

Back in 1750 George Washington surveyed Natural Bridge, a year before the Revolution. Thomas Jefferson bought it from the King of England for 20 shillings. Both did a good job because, to this day, not a soul can set eyes on this wonder of nature without paying admission. The highway leads over the giant 40-foot arch, but undergrowth, a board fence and no parking signs prevent a peak at the chasm below.

Photographs did not prepare me

and his wife from Clearwater, Florida will return home Monday after visiting his mother, Mrs. J. B. Koonce.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

On a hill that is part of the city, wide green lawns lead up to the impressive red brick and white colonnaded buildings of Washington and Lee University. George Washington was its first big donor; the name of Lee was added in 1870 when he died after serving as president for five years. General Lee now lies buried in the lovely old chapel which he designed and built.

"Next door" is Virginia Military Institute, often called "The West Point of the South." On your first drive around the campus you will be impressed by courteous, straight-shouldered cadets, their grooming and uniforms in contrast to the informal garb of most college students elsewhere. The four-story stone buildings with their turreted towers are a severe dignity that is in keeping with the school's traditions. Over the front entrance of the main building is cut the name of Stonewall Jackson.

In downtown Lexington a recent and reverent job has been done in restoring the only house that General Jackson ever claimed as his home. All his authentic articles are tagged with a red ribbon; the other relics and pieces of furniture are in keeping with the period. Most interesting to me were his square Confederate battle flag, the sword that he carried in the Mexican War and the old family photos.

From Lexington the Magic Circle Curves back toward Roanoke over another portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway that takes you through the highest and most spectacular of Virginia's mountain wonders. Here again you are on a skyline boulevard of primitive, unspoiled beauty that traverses the Jefferson National Forest. Looming over this land of the sky are the Peaks of Otter.

Weekly Guide to Best TV Programs

Sunday

KCMC - Channel 6

7:45 Test Pattern, Music
8:00 Lamp Unto My Feet
8:30 Western Theater
9:30 Camera Three
9:55 News
10:00 The Last Word
10:30 Air Force Story
10:45 First Baptist Church Services

In progress, baseball, Milwaukee at Philadelphia

2:00 Water Carnival and Beauty Pageant
4:00 Churches of Christ
4:30 Oral Roberts
5:00 Music Theater
5:30 Footnote Fashions
5:55 Sports
6:00 Weatherman
6:15 News
6:30 Bachelor Father
7:00 Ed Sullivan
7:00 G. E. Theater
8:30 Alfred Hitchcock Presents
9:00 Richard Diamond
9:30 Peck's Bad Girl
10:00 December Bride
10:30 MGM Playhouse

KTBS - Channel 3

6:00 Test Pattern
6:30 Creswell St. Church of Christ
7:00 Oral Roberts
9:30 Morning Matinee
11:00 First Baptist Church
12:00 Baseball, New York vs. Baltimore
3:00 Special Farm Show
3:30 Gospel of Christ
4:00 Spaceman's Last Frontier
6:00 New Search for Talent
5:30 Too Young to Go Steady
6:00 Black Saddle
6:30 Steve Allen Show
7:30 The Lawman
8:00 Dinah Shore Show
8:00 Loretta Young Show
9:30 Highway Patrol
10:00 Cheyenne
11:00 Mark III Theater
12:30 Sign Off

KSLA - Channel 12

8:00 Lamp Unto My Feet
8:30 Hour of Worship
9:30 Camera Three
9:55 News
10:00 The Last Word
10:30 This Colorful World
10:45 Baseball, Leadoff
10:55 Baseball, Milwaukee at Philadelphia
1:30 Sports Special
1:45 Sunday Matinee
3:15 Industry on Parade
4:00 Window on the World
4:30 Face the Nation
4:30 Our America
5:00 Behind the News
5:30 20th Century: "Riot in East Berlin"
6:00 Lassie
6:30 Bachelor Father
7:00 Ed Sullivan Show
8:00 Ronald Reagan Theater
8:30 Alfred Hitchcock Presents
9:00 Richard Diamond
9:30 What's My Line
10:00 Tombstone Territory
10:30 Final Edition
10:40 MGM Theater
12:00 Vespers

Monday

KCMC - Channel 6

7:00 Grand Ole Opry
7:30 Looney Tunes
7:45 News
7:55 Weather
8:00 News
8:10 Televisi
8:15 Captain Kangaroo
9:00 Romper Room
9:30 Sam Levenson Show
10:00 I Love Lucy
10:30 Top Dollar
11:00 Love of Life
11:30 Medic
12:00 Farm Digest
12:15 News and Weather
12:30 As the World Turns
1:00 Jimmy Dean Show
1:30 House Party
2:00 The Big Payoff
2:30 The Verdict Is Yours
3:00 Meet the People
3:15 Secret Storm
3:30 Edge of Night
4:00 American Bandstand
5:00 My Little Margie
5:30 Mickey Mouse
6:00 News
6:10 Weatherman
6:15 John Daly News
6:30 Name That Tune
7:00 The Texan
7:30 U. S. Marshal
8:00 Voice of Firestone
8:30 Grand Ole Opry
9:00 Danny Thomas
9:30 Markham
10:00 News
10:10 Weather
10:15 John Daly
10:30 MGM Playhouse

KTBS - Channel 3

6:00 Test Pattern
6:30 Continental Classroom
7:00 Today
7:25 Local News
7:30 Today
8:00 Dough Re-Mi
8:30 Treasure Hunt
9:00 The Price Is Right
10:00 Concentration
10:30 Tic Tac Dough
11:30 It Could Be You
12:00 Local News & Weather
12:15 Looney Tunes
12:30 Pantomime Quiz
1:00 Queen for a Day
1:30 Haggis Baggis
2:00 Young Dr. Malone
2:30 Truth or Consequences
3:00 County Fair
3:30 Cartoon Corners
4:00 American Bandstand
4:30 Walt Disney Presents
5:00 Name That Tune
5:30 The Texan
6:00 U. S. Marshal
6:30 Voice of Firestone
7:00 Grand Ole Opry
7:30 Danny Thomas
8:00 Markham
8:30 News
9:00 Weather
9:05 John Daly
9:30 MGM Playhouse

7:55 County Fair
8:00 Cartoon Corners
8:30 American Bandstand
8:30 Mickey Mouse Club
8:55 News
9:00 Weather
9:15 News
9:30 Blackhawk
9:30 Restless Gun
9:30 Wells Fargo
9:30 McKenzies Raiders
9:30 Peter Gunn
9:30 Arthur Murray Show
9:30 77 Sunset Strip
10:30 Local Weather & News
10:45 Sports
10:50 Jack Paar Show
12:00 Sign Off

KSLA - Channel 12

6:30 Test Pattern
6:45 Your Pastor
7:00 Jones Junction
7:00 News
7:30 Footnote Fashions
7:55 Sports
8:00 Weatherman
8:15 News
8:30 Bachelor Father
9:00 Ed Sullivan
9:00 G. E. Theater
8:30 Alfred Hitchcock Presents
9:00 Richard Diamond
9:30 Peck's Bad Girl
10:00 December Bride
10:30 MGM Playhouse

Tuesday

KCMC - Channel 6

7:00 Grand Ole Opry
7:30 Looney Tunes
7:45 News
7:55 Weather
8:00 News
8:10 Televisi
8:15 Captain Kangaroo
9:00 Romper Room
9:30 Sam Levenson Show
10:00 I Love Lucy
10:30 Top Dollar
11:00 Love of Life
11:30 Medic
12:00 Farm Digest
12:15 News and Weather
12:30 As the World Turns
1:00 Jimmy Dean Show
1:30 House Party
2:00 The Big Payoff
2:30 The Verdict Is Yours
3:00 Meet the People
3:15 Secret Storm
3:30 Edge of Night
4:00 American Bandstand
5:00 My Little Margie
5:30 Adventure Time
6:00 News
6:10 Weatherman
6:15 John Daly
6:30 Lawman
7:00 State Trooper
7:30 To Tell the Truth
8:00 Rifleman
8:30 Red Skelton Show
9:00 Garry Moore
10:00 News
10:10 Weather
10:15 Don Goddard
10:30 MGM Playhouse

KTBS - Channel 3

6:00 Test Pattern
6:30 Continental Classroom
7:00 Today
7:25 Local News
7:30 Today
8:00 Dough Re-Mi
8:30 Treasure Hunt
9:00 The Price Is Right
10:00 Concentration
10:30 Tic Tac Dough
11:30 It Could Be You
12:00 Local News & Weather
12:15 Looney Tunes
12:30 Pantomime Quiz
1:00 Queen for a Day
1:30 Haggis Baggis
2:00 Young Dr. Malone
2:30 Truth or Consequences
3:00 County Fair
3:30 Cartoon Corners
4:00 American Bandstand
4:30 Walt Disney Presents
5:00 Name That Tune
5:30 The Texan
6:00 U. S. Marshal
6:30 Voice of Firestone
7:00 Grand Ole Opry
7:30 Danny Thomas
8:00 Markham
8:30 News
9:00 Weather
9:05 John Daly
9:30 MGM Playhouse

KSLA - Channel 12

6:30 Test Pattern
6:45 Your Pastor
7:00 Jones Junction
7:00 News
7:30 Footnote Fashions
7:55 Sports
8:00 Weatherman
8:15 News
8:30 Bachelor Father
9:00 Ed Sullivan
9:00 G. E. Theater
8:30 Alfred Hitchcock Presents
9:00 Richard Diamond
9:30 Peck's Bad Girl
10:00 December Bride
10:30 MGM Playhouse

12:20 To be announced
12:30 As the World Turns
1:00 Jimmy Dean
1:30 House Party
2:00 The Big Payoff
2:30 The Verdict Is Yours
3:00 Meet the People
3:15 Secret Storm
3:30 Edge of Night
4:00 Take 5
4:05 Cinema XII
5:00 Popeye and His Pals
5:30 Huckleberry Hound
6:00 Early Edition
6:15 Dateline: Shreveport
6:30 Jeff's Collie
7:00 December Bride
7:30 To Tell the Truth
8:00 Rescue 8
8:30 Red Skelton
9:00 Garry Moore Show
10:00 Markham
10:30 Final Edition
10:45 Night Owl Theater
12:00 TV News Final
12:05 Vespers

Wednesday

KCMC - Channel 6

7:00 Grand Ole Opry
7:30 Looney Tunes
7:45 News
7:55 Weather
8:00 News
8:10 Televisi
8:15 Captain Kangaroo
9:00 Romper Room
9:30 Sam Levenson Show
10:00 I Love Lucy
10:30 Top Dollar
11:00 Love of Life
11:30 Medic
12:00 Farm Digest
12:15 News and Weather
12:30 As the World Turns
1:00 Jimmy Dean Show
1:30 House Party
2:00 The Big Payoff
2:30 The Verdict Is Yours
3:00 Meet the People
3:15 Secret Storm
3:30 Edge of Night
4:00 American Bandstand
5:00 My Little Margie
5:30 Mickey Mouse Club
6:00 News
6:10 Weatherman
6:15 John Daly
6:30 Lawrence Welk
7:30 Trackdown
8:00 The Millionaire
8:30 I've Got a Secret
9:00 Badge 714
9:30 Gray Ghost
10:00 News
10:10 Weather
10:15 Don Goddard
10:30 MGM Playhouse

KTBS - Channel 3

6:00 Test Pattern
6:30 Continental Classroom
7:00 Today
7:25 Local News
7:30 Today
8:00 Dough Re-Mi
8:30 Treasure Hunt
9:00 The Price Is Right
10:00 Concentration
10:30 Tic Tac Dough
11:30 It Could Be You
12:00 Local News & Weather
12:15 Looney Tunes
12:30 Pantomime Quiz
1:00 Queen for a Day
1:30 Haggis Baggis
2:00 Young Dr. Malone
2:30 Truth or Consequences
3:00 County Fair
3:30 Cartoon Corners
4:00 American Bandstand
4:30 Mickey Mouse Club
5:00 Local News & Weather
5:30 NBC News
6:30 News Train
7:30 Border Patrol
8:00 Music Hall
8:30 Bat Masterson
9:00 This Is Your Life
9:30 Naked City
10:00 On Deposit
10:30 Local Weather & News
10:45 Sports
10:50 Jack Paar Show
12:00 Sign Off

KSLA - Channel 12

6:30 Test Pattern
6:45 Your Pastor
7:00 Jones Junction
7:00 News
7:30 Footnote Fashions
7:55 Sports
8:00 Weatherman
8:15 News
8:30 Bachelor Father
9:00 Ed Sullivan
9:00 G. E. Theater
8:30 Alfred Hitchcock Presents
9:00 Richard Diamond
9:30 What's My Line
10:00 Tombstone Territory
10:30 Final Edition
10:40 MGM Theater
12:00 Vespers

Thursday

KCMC - Channel 6

7:00 Grand Ole Opry
7:30 Looney Tunes

7:45 News
8:00 Weather
8:10 News
8:10 Televisi
8:15 Captain Kangaroo
9:00 Romper Room
9:30 Sam Levenson Show
10:00 I Love Lucy
10:30 Top Dollar
11:00 Love of Life
11:30 Medic
12:00 Farm Digest
12:15 News and Weather
12:30 As the World Turns
1:00 Jimmy Dean Show
1:30 House Party
2:00 The Big Payoff
2:30 The Verdict Is Yours
3:00 Meet the People
3:15 Secret Storm
3:30 Edge of Night
4:00 Take 5
4:05 Cinema XII
5:00 Popeye and His Pals
5:30 Huckleberry Hound
6:00 Early Edition
6:15 Dateline: Shreveport
6:30 Jeff's Collie
7:00 December Bride
7:30 To Tell the Truth
8:00 Rescue 8
8:30 Red Skelton
9:00 Garry Moore Show
10:00 Markham
10:30 Final Edition
10:45 Night Owl Theater
12:00 TV News Final
12:05 Vespers

KTBS - Channel 3

6:00 Test Pattern
6:30 Continental Classroom
7:00 Today
7:25 Local News
7:30 Today
8:00 Dough Re-Mi
8:30 Treasure Hunt
9:00 The Price Is Right
10:00 Concentration
10:30 Tic Tac Dough
11:30 It Could Be You
12:00 Local News & Weather
12:15 Looney Tunes
12:30 Pantomime Quiz
1:00 Queen for a Day
1:30 Haggis Baggis
2:00 Young Dr. Malone
2:30 Truth or Consequences
3:00 County Fair
3:30 Cartoon Corners
4:00 American Bandstand
4:30 Mickey Mouse Club
5:00 Local News & Weather
5:30 NBC News
6:30 News Train
7:30 Border Patrol
8:00 Music Hall
8:30 Bat Masterson
9:00 This Is Your Life
9:30 Naked City
10:00 On Deposit
10:30 Local Weather & News
10:45 Sports
10:50 Jack Paar Show
12:00 Sign Off

KSLA - Channel 12

6:30 Test Pattern
6:45 Your Pastor
7:00 Jones Junction
7:00 News
7:30 Footnote Fashions
7:55 Sports
8:00 Weatherman
8:15 News
8:30 Bachelor Father
9:00 Ed Sullivan
9:00 G. E. Theater
8:30 Alfred Hitchcock Presents
9:00 Richard Diamond
9:30 What's My Line
10:00 Tombstone Territory
10:30 Final Edition
10:40 MGM Theater
12:00 Vespers

KTBS - Channel 3

7:30 Test Pattern
8:00 Looney Tunes
8:30 Circus Boy
9:00 Howdy Doody
9:30 Ruff & Reddy
10:00 Fury
10:30 Toys For Toys
10:30 Baseball, New York vs. Washington
3:30 True Story
4:00 Detective's Diary
4:30 Refreshment Time
5:00 Wrestling from Chicago
5:30 News, Weather, Photo Review
6:30 People Are Funny
7:00 Perry Como
8:00 Wyatt Earp
8:30 Cimarron City
9:30 Mr. D. A.'s Man
10:00 Lawrence Welk's Show
11:00 Mark III Theater

KSLA - Channel 12

7:30 World We Live In
8:00 Let's Explore
8:30 Captain Kangaroo
9:30 Mighty Mouse
10:00 Heckle & Jeckle
10:30 Farmer Alfalfa
11:00 Farm & Home
11:30 Allendale YWCA
12:15 This Colorful World
12:15 Baseball, Pittsburgh at Cincinnati
3:00 Horserace of the Week
3:30 Buckskin Classics
4:30 Teen Time
5:00 Robin Hood
5:30 Boston Blackie
6:00 Anne Casey
6:30 Eve Aronson
7:30 Wanted Dead or Alive
8:00 Face of Danger
8:30 Have Gun Will Travel

KTBS - Channel 3

8:00 Test Pattern
8:30 Continental Classroom
9:00 Today
9:25 Local News
9:30 Today
10:00 Dough Re-Mi
10:30 Treasure Hunt
11:00 The Price Is Right
11:30 Concentration
12:00 Local News & Weather
12:15 Looney Tunes
12:30 Pantomime Quiz
1:00 Queen for a Day
1:30 Haggis Baggis
2:00 Young Dr. Malone
2:30 Truth or Consequences
3:00 County Fair
3:30 Cartoon Corners
4:00 American Bandstand
4:30 Mickey Mouse Club
5:00 Local News & Weather
5:30 NBC News
6:30 News Train
7:30 Border Patrol
8:00 Music Hall
8:30 Bat Masterson
9:00 This Is Your Life
9:30 Naked City
10:00 On Deposit
10:30 Local Weather & News
10:45 Sports
10:50 Jack Paar Show
12:00 Sign Off

KSLA - Channel 12

6:30 Test Pattern
6:45 Your Pastor
7:00 Jones Junction
7:00 News
7:30 Footnote Fashions
7:55 Sports
8:00 Weatherman
8:15 News
8:30 Bachelor Father
9:00 Ed Sullivan
9:00 G. E. Theater
8:30 Alfred Hitchcock Presents
9:00 Richard Diamond
9:30 What's My Line
10:00 Tombstone Territory
10:30 Final Edition
10:40 MGM Theater
12:00 Vespers

Saturday

KCMC - Channel 6

7:30 Looney Tunes
8:30 Captain Kangaroo
9:30 Ruff & Reddy
10:00 Fury
10:30 Robin Hood
11:00 To be announced
11:30 This Is the Life
12:00 Play Ball
12:15 Baseball, Pittsburgh at Cincinnati
3:00 Cowboy Caravan
5:00 Dance Party
5:45 News
5:55 Weatherman
6:00 Walt Disney Presents
7:00 Donna Reed Show
7:30 Wanted! Dead or Alive
8:00 Face of Danger
8:30 Have Gun Will Travel
9:00 Gunsmoke
9:30 Mike Hammer
10:00 Lawrence Welk
11:00 Jubilee, USA

KTBS - Channel 3

7:30 Test Pattern
8:00 Looney Tunes
8:30 Circus Boy
9:00 Howdy Doody
9:30 Ruff & Reddy
10:00 Fury
10:30 Toys For Toys
10:30 Baseball, New York vs. Washington
3:30 True Story
4:00 Detective's Diary
4:30 Refreshment Time
5:00 Wrestling from Chicago
5:30 News, Weather, Photo Review
6:30 People Are Funny
7:00 Perry Como
8:00 Wyatt Earp
8:30 Cimarron City
9:30 Mr. D. A.'s Man
10:00 Lawrence Welk's Show
11:00 Mark III Theater

KSLA - Channel 12

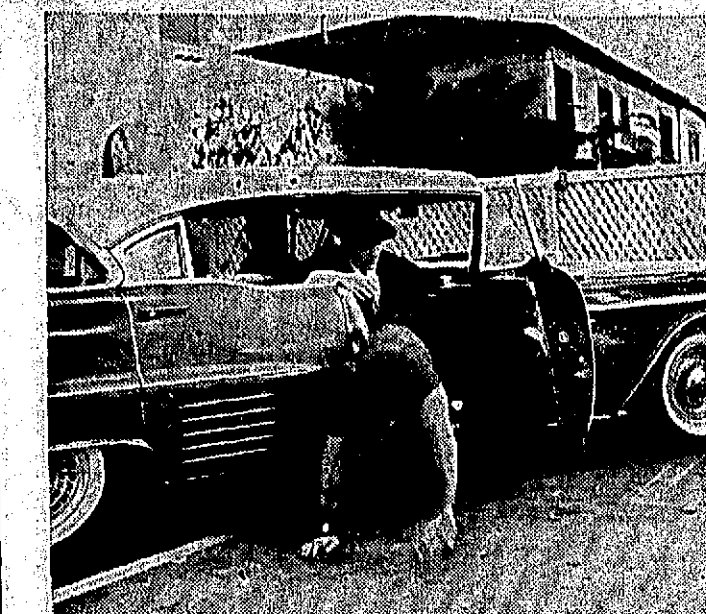

7:30 World We Live In
8:00 Let's Explore
8:30 Captain Kangaroo
9:30 Mighty Mouse
10:00 Heckle & Jeckle
10:30 Farmer Alfalfa
11:00 Farm & Home
11:30 Allendale YWCA
12:15 This Colorful World
12:15 Baseball, Pittsburgh at Cincinnati
3:00 Horserace of the Week
3:30 Buckskin Classics
4:30 Teen Time
5:00 Robin Hood
5:30 Boston Blackie
6:00 Anne Casey
6:30 Eve Aronson
7:30 Wanted Dead or Alive
8:00 Face of Danger
8:30 Have Gun Will Travel

Saenger - Saturday Thru Tues.

"I Was a Teenage Boy" is what Walt Disney's "Shaggy Dog" is saying to the movie going public in the funniest adventure that ever happened. Fred MacMurray says, "How would you like to be the father of a Bratislavian Sheepdog?" "Well, it happened to me." Don't miss this entertaining family type movie showing at the Saenger theater in Hope Saturday through Tuesday.

Saenger - Late Show Saturday, Also, Wed. and Thurs. Feature

Dick Contino, who plays the little role in American International's "Daddy-O" is beat up by gangsters and thrown from a car in a scene from the picture. "Daddy-O" may be seen Wednesday and Thursday at the Saenger theater.

Leonard Bernstein, director of the New York Philharmonic, was born in Lawrence, Mass.

Iran, in southwest Asia, was called Persia until 1935.

Cuba has a population of about 4,800,000.

RAF BOMBS - The British Royal Air Force bombed 14,547-foot-high Mt. Surpan in Turkey (cross on map), about 100 miles from the Soviet border. Purpose was to demolish secret rocket equipment lost when a troop transport crashed. It was considered too hazardous to get the equipment down and too dangerous to leave it where it might be found.

Jury to Discuss Probe Information

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The federal grand jury investigating the Alford-Hays congressional election will meet June 3 to discuss information turned up in the probe. Observers speculated the jury will hear a report from U.S. Attorney Osro Cobb on FBI checking into alleged voting irregularities. Jury Foreman Carroll Thibault declined comment on the scheduled meeting other than saying it was called "to discuss the information that we have to date" and to find

7:30 Gunsmoke
9:30 Mickey Spillane
10:00 Special Agent - 7
10:30 Final Edition
10:45 Movie Premiere
12:00 Vespers

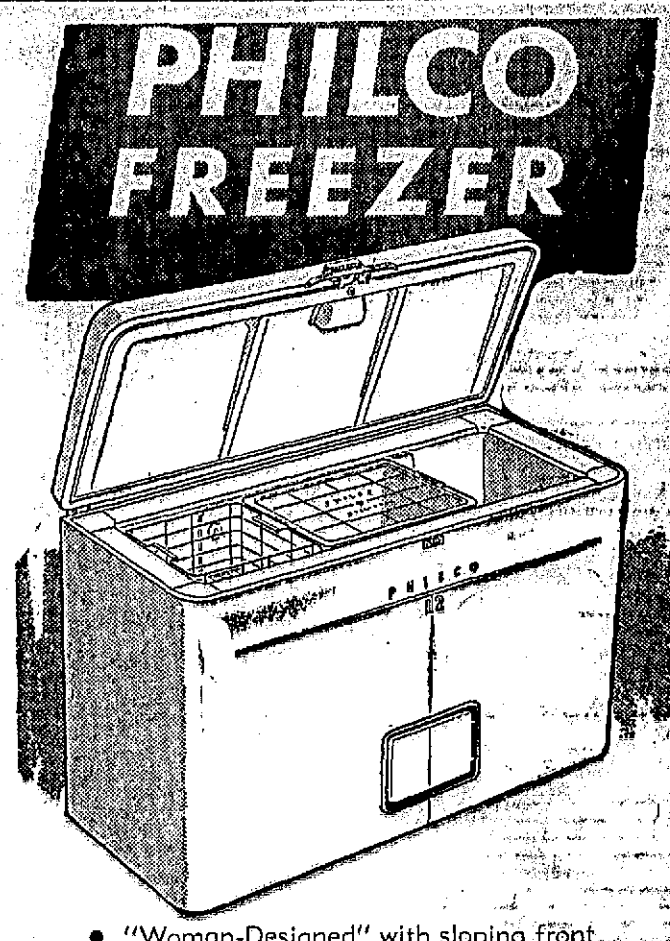

LICKETY SPLIT—Two small sisters lick the warm weather in Albany, N.Y. Lee, 4, left, and Diantha, Van Mierop, 3, share cooling ice cream cone.

WEST GERMANY'S FIRST—Donned steel cylinder will house the boiling water reactor for West Germany's first nuclear power station. It will be located at Kraft (see Newsweek). The 15,000-kilowatt station will be built by a German firm incorporating American parts. Owner will be Rheinisch-Westfälisches Elektrizitätswerk, one of Europe's largest utilities.

WEST GERMANY'S FIRST—Donned steel cylinder will house the boiling water reactor for West Germany's first nuclear power station. It will be located at Kraft (see Newsweek). The 15,000-kilowatt station will be built by a German firm incorporating American parts. Owner will be Rheinisch-Westfälisches Elektrizitätswerk, one of Europe's largest utilities.

PHILCO FREEZER

- "Woman-Designed" with sloping front
- 70% of storage space above knee level
- Separate sharp freezing compartment
- Two operating positions "sharp freezing" and "Zero storage"
- Automatic interior light
- Counterbalanced lid
- Signal light on front
- Power cord safety bracket
- Philco super power system
- Five year warranty

Prices start at $199.95 for a 10 Cu. Ft.

COLLIER TIRE & APPLIANCE CO.
116 E. 3rd
PR 7-5846

Gate Opened for a Third Major League

By HAROLD HARRISON

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Baseball's major leagues have opened the gate for the formation of a third league with major league status.

Operating heads of the 16 National and American League clubs agreed unanimously Thursday "to favorably consider" applications for major league status by "an acceptable group of eight clubs which could qualify."

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick says his personal belief is that such a league is inevitable and that it certainly will come within five years.

An even more optimistic report came from William Shea of New York's Majors Committee on Baseball. He said: "We ought to be ready in four or five weeks to do something. The third major league should be in the formative stage by that time."

Frick's statement, at the wind-up of a hastily called meeting, said: "There is no existing plan to expand the present major leagues." By that he meant expansion of the National and American leagues to 10 or 12 club organizations.

The statement from the club owners-loose a flood of speculation.

One was—How about ball players?

"A third major league would need 200 players under the present player limit rule."

To that, Frick said, "The players will develop if you have the jobs for them."

"He said there was no discussion in the meeting of player talent or a possible 'share the player' plan with a new league."

"Another question was—How about the cost and the effect on the minors?"

One of the qualifications set up in the meeting Thursday was that the new league would be responsible for all territorial provisions and financial obligations necessary to set it up.

The best guess was that would cost many thousands of dollars to recompense the top minor leagues for cities taken from them. It undoubtedly would mean a wholesale realignment of the minors.

Among the cities which have been suggested as possible members of a new major league are New York, Buffalo, New Orleans,

IF NEAR CELLAR OR EXCAVATION, GO TO IT. THIS IS BEST COVER.

CAUGHT IN OPEN COUNTRY, LIE FLAT IN DITCH OR RAVINE.

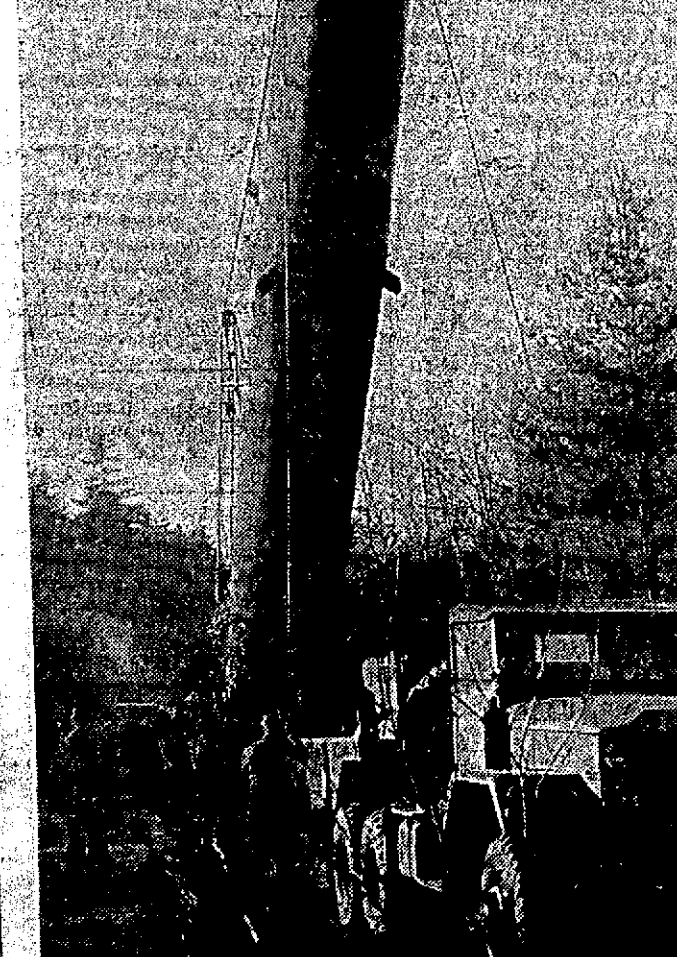

IN TOWN, TAKE SHELTER IN STRONGLY REINFORCED BUILDINGS.

IN SCHOOL, STAY AWAY FROM LARGE WINDOWS AND WIDE ROOFS.

IN FACTORIES, PRIOR DIRECTIONS TO SAFE AREA MUST BE POSTED.

KEEP CALM, LISTEN TO RADIO OR TV FOR LATEST TORNADO REPORTS.

SIDESTEPING A TORNADO—Weather Bureau advises the above steps to protect yourself against a tornado. Additional tips: At home, go to a basement corner, if not basement, take cover under heavy furniture against inside wall. Don't tie up the telephone calling for weather information. Important thing is to select carefully the best protection available. Above all, don't lose your head. People have been killed because they ran into the streets, directly into the storm's path.

HUGE GUARDIAN FOR GERMANY—Soldiers of the U.S. 40th Artillery Group raise a mighty Redstone missile in Eckweiler, Germany. The short-range ballistic missile, which can be armed with an atomic warhead, is on guard as East-West opposition in Germany stiffens.

Field & Stream

DIRTY OR CLEAN, ALL DOGS SHED

By JOE STETSON
Dog Editor

Statements are made that would lead one to believe that the breed in question has no odor and does not shed.

There are differences in coats, such as the glossiness of some or the retriever breeds and the density of some of the heavy-

Dallas-Fort Worth, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Montreal, Seattle, Mexico City and Toronto.

The club owners set up 10 qualifications members of a new league would have to meet in order to "go major."

In addition to the territorial qualification, they would have to show proof of financial responsibility, have a park or a commitment for a park seating a minimum of 25,000, have a balanced 154-game schedule, adhere to the major league salary agreement with no maximum, except the various major league agreements agree to join the player pension plan to adopt a comparable plan, have a population in each city not less than the smallest city in the present major leagues.

All postponed games will be played at the end of the season and will not interrupt the regular schedule.

Teams listed first on the schedule will be the home team.

First game 6:00 p.m.
Second game 7:15 p.m.
Third game 8:30 p.m.

Times listed will be 1 hour. Any game beginning before the time limit has expired will be completed. The umpire is chief in decision as to time limit and will be final.

AMERICA AFLOAT

Distributed by NEA Service
SIMPLE RULES MAKE THIS THE HAPPIEST SAIL RACE
By WM. TAYLOR MCKEOWN
Editor, Popular Boating

GEORGE TOWN, GREAT EXUMA, B.W.I.—(NEA)—One of the most fun-filled contests is the Bahama Out Island Regatta.

Native work boats with hand-grated hulls and patchwork sails compete for the honor of top boat on the bright green waters of this tropical paradise.

The races are held every spring off the village of George Town, 130 miles from Nassau.

For three days Bahamians race the same floons and schooners they use the rest of the year to fish, live aboard and carry cargo and passengers from island to island with only wind and sails to push them along.

Six years ago Linton Rise, an American living on Great Exuma Island, inaugurated the event. Every sport develops complicated rules, and yacht racing is no exception. The return to the basics is a refreshing change.

In these races two boats converging head on must both tack and give way. Markers buoy showing the course must be rounded without being hit. Solomons has yachting been as simple and as much fun to see, a point clubs back home might do well to consider.

A visiting fleet of nearly 100 spectator yachts, some from as far away as Chicago and Boston, sailed down this year to watch the event and many more visitors arrived by air. More than 50 native boats competed.

Before the start, all craft must anchor with sails down. At the gun, the racing fleet leaps to confused action as anchors and sails are raised at the same time. Size of crew is up to each skipper.

Sails are loose-footed, hanging well below the boom, and some times into the water. On a bent to windward a foredeck man may be seen hanging over the side, splashing up even more spray on the job to make it set and draw better.

But it is on the run off, the wind that these work boats really crowd on all sail in colorful combinations.

"Bahama topsails"—sail, mast and boom borrowed from a smaller Nassau dinghy—are hoisted by the mast, promptly followed by a crew member who scrambles aloft to set the extra sail. Sometimes an additional mast is set up on deck as well when the wind is astern.

More sophisticated, though not necessarily better, yachtsmen from the north watched with interest as large home-made Genoa jibs and the first hints of racing spinnakers appeared.

One native "work boat" showed up built with lines obviously copied to resemble some of the fast visiting racing craft.

She ran aground temporarily on a sand shoal, however, and supremacy for another year, the traditional craft kept their supremacy for another year.

ly crowd on all sail in colorful combinations.

"Bahama topsails"—sail, mast and boom borrowed from a smaller Nassau dinghy—are hoisted by the mast, promptly followed by a crew member who scrambles aloft to set the extra sail. Sometimes an additional mast is set up on deck as well when the wind is astern.

More sophisticated, though not necessarily better, yachtsmen from the north watched with interest as large home-made Genoa jibs and the first hints of racing spinnakers appeared.

One native "work boat" showed up built with lines obviously copied to resemble some of the fast visiting racing craft.

She ran aground temporarily on a sand shoal, however, and supremacy for another year, the traditional craft kept their supremacy for another year.

ly crowd on all sail in colorful combinations.

"Bahama topsails"—sail, mast and boom borrowed from a smaller Nassau dinghy—are hoisted by the mast, promptly followed by a crew member who scrambles aloft to set the extra sail. Sometimes an additional mast is set up on deck as well when the wind is astern.

More sophisticated, though not necessarily better, yachtsmen from the north watched with interest as large home-made Genoa jibs and the first hints of racing spinnakers appeared.

One native "work boat" showed up built with lines obviously copied to resemble some of the fast visiting racing craft.

She ran aground temporarily on a sand shoal, however, and supremacy for another year, the traditional craft kept their supremacy for another year.

ly crowd on all sail in colorful combinations.

"Bahama topsails"—sail, mast and boom borrowed from a smaller Nassau dinghy—are hoisted by the mast, promptly followed by a crew member who scrambles aloft to set the extra sail. Sometimes an additional mast is set up on deck as well when the wind is astern.

More sophisticated, though not necessarily better, yachtsmen from the north watched with interest as large home-made Genoa jibs and the first hints of racing spinnakers appeared.

One native "work boat" showed up built with lines obviously copied to resemble some of the fast visiting racing craft.

She ran aground temporarily on a sand shoal, however, and supremacy for another year, the traditional craft kept their supremacy for another year.

ly crowd on all sail in colorful combinations.

"Bahama topsails"—sail, mast and boom borrowed from a smaller Nassau dinghy—are hoisted by the mast, promptly followed by a crew member who scrambles aloft to set the extra sail. Sometimes an additional mast is set up on deck as well when the wind is astern.

More sophisticated, though not necessarily better, yachtsmen from the north watched with interest as large home-made Genoa jibs and the first hints of racing spinnakers appeared.

One native "work boat" showed up built with lines obviously copied to resemble some of the fast visiting racing craft.

She ran aground temporarily on a sand shoal, however, and supremacy for another year, the traditional craft kept their supremacy for another year.

ly crowd on all sail in colorful combinations.

"Bahama topsails"—sail, mast and boom borrowed from a smaller Nassau dinghy—are hoisted by the mast, promptly followed by a crew member who scrambles aloft to set the extra sail. Sometimes an additional mast is set up on deck as well when the wind is astern.

More sophisticated, though not necessarily better, yachtsmen from the north watched with interest as large home-made Genoa jibs and the first hints of racing spinnakers appeared.

One native "work boat" showed up built with lines obviously copied to resemble some of the fast visiting racing craft.

She ran aground temporarily on a sand shoal, however, and supremacy for another year, the traditional craft kept their supremacy for another year.

ly crowd on all sail in colorful combinations.

"Bahama topsails"—sail, mast and boom borrowed from a smaller Nassau dinghy—are hoisted by the mast, promptly followed by a crew member who scrambles aloft to set the extra sail. Sometimes an additional mast is set up on deck as well when the wind is astern.

More sophisticated, though not necessarily better, yachtsmen from the north watched with interest as large home-made Genoa jibs and the first hints of racing spinnakers appeared.

One native "work boat" showed up built with lines obviously copied to resemble some of the fast visiting racing craft.

Hope Star Classified Ads

ADS MUST BE IN OFFICE DAY BEFORE PUBLICATION — PHONE 7-3431 FOR AD TAKER

When to Fish or Hunt

Solunar Tables

By John Alden Knight

When to Fish or Hunt

As printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times. If you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major Periods are shown in boldface type. These begin at the time shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours there after. The Minor Periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

A. M. P. M.

Minor Major

Saturday 6:05 8:40 12:25

Sunday 7:05 12:55 7:40 1:25

Monday 8:05 1:55 8:35 2:20

Tuesday 9:00 2:50 9:30 3:15

Wednesday 9:50 3:40 10:20 4:05

Thursday 10:40 4:30 11:10 4:55

Friday 11:25 5:15 11:55 5:40

Saturday 6:00 12:05 6:25

Sunday 12:40 6:45 12:55 7:10

ly crowd on all sail in colorful combinations.

"Bahama topsails"—sail, mast and boom borrowed from a smaller Nassau dinghy—are hoisted by the mast, promptly followed by a crew member who scrambles aloft to set the extra sail. Sometimes an additional mast is set up on deck as well when the wind is astern.

More sophisticated, though not necessarily better, yachtsmen from the north watched with interest as large home-made Genoa jibs and the first hints of racing spinnakers appeared.

One native "work boat" showed up built with lines obviously copied to resemble some of the fast visiting racing craft.

She ran aground temporarily on a sand shoal, however, and supremacy for another year, the traditional craft kept their supremacy for another year.

ly crowd on all sail in colorful combinations.

"Bahama topsails"—sail, mast and boom borrowed from a smaller Nassau dinghy—are hoisted by the mast, promptly followed by a crew member who scrambles aloft to set the extra sail. Sometimes an additional mast is set up on deck as well when the wind is astern.

More sophisticated, though not necessarily better, yachtsmen from the north watched with interest as large home-made Genoa jibs and the first hints of racing spinnakers appeared.

One native "work boat" showed up built with lines obviously copied to resemble some of the fast visiting racing craft.

She ran aground temporarily on a sand shoal, however, and supremacy for another year, the traditional craft kept their supremacy for another year.

ly crowd on all sail in colorful combinations.

"Bahama topsails"—sail, mast and boom borrowed from a smaller Nassau dinghy—are hoisted by the mast, promptly followed by a crew member who scrambles aloft to set the extra sail. Sometimes an additional mast is set up on deck as well when the wind is astern.

More sophisticated, though not necessarily better, yachtsmen from the north watched with interest as large home-made Genoa jibs and the first hints of racing spinnakers appeared.

One native "work boat" showed up built with lines obviously copied to resemble some of the fast visiting racing craft.

She ran aground temporarily on a sand shoal, however, and supremacy for another year, the traditional craft kept their supremacy for another year.

ly crowd on all sail in colorful combinations.

"Bahama topsails"—sail, mast and boom borrowed from a smaller Nassau dinghy—are hoisted by the mast, promptly followed by a crew member who scrambles aloft to set the extra sail. Sometimes an additional mast is set up on deck as well when the wind is astern.

More sophisticated, though not necessarily better, yachtsmen from the north watched with interest as large home-made Genoa jibs and the first hints of racing spinnakers appeared.

One native "work boat" showed up built with lines obviously copied to resemble some of the fast visiting racing craft.

She ran aground temporarily on a sand shoal, however, and supremacy for another year, the traditional craft kept their supremacy for another year.

ly crowd on all sail in colorful combinations.

"Bahama topsails"—sail, mast and boom borrowed from a smaller Nassau dinghy—are hoisted by the mast, promptly followed by a crew member who scrambles aloft to set the extra sail. Sometimes an additional mast is set up on deck as well when the wind is astern.

More sophisticated, though not necessarily better, yachtsmen from the north watched with interest as large home-made Genoa jibs and the first hints of racing spinnakers appeared.

One native "work boat" showed up built with lines obviously copied to resemble some of the fast visiting racing craft.

She ran aground temporarily on a sand shoal, however, and supremacy for another year, the traditional craft kept their supremacy for another year.

ly crowd on all sail in colorful combinations.

"Bahama topsails"—sail, mast and boom borrowed from a smaller Nassau dinghy—are hoisted by the mast, promptly followed by a crew member who scrambles aloft to set the extra sail. Sometimes an additional mast is set up on deck as well when the wind is astern.

More sophisticated, though not necessarily better, yachtsmen from the north watched with interest as large home-made Genoa jibs and the first hints of racing spinnakers appeared.

One native "work boat" showed up built with lines obviously copied to resemble some of the fast visiting racing craft.

Matter of FACT

The North American mink

is a large, dark-brown weasel with a hairy tail and often a white spot on its throat.

Male minks are about 20 to 30 inches long, including a seven-to-nine-inch tail. The mink has four to five, to eight young born in the spring. The mother helps care for and feeds them until fall, when the family breaks up, and individuals go separate ways.

© Encyclopedia Britannica

The Negro Community

Esther Hicks

Phone 7-4678 or 7-4474

Thought For The Day:

We love ourselves notwithstanding our faults and we ought to love our friends in like manner — Cyrus.

Calendar Of Events

Thursday Through Sunday

The members of St. Paul Church of Emmet will observe the fourth anniversary of their pastor, Rev. J. M. Stewart, with a series of services beginning Thursday night, May 21 and ending Sunday afternoon, May 24. The public is invited.

Saturday night, May 24: Young Peoples Department in charge of service.

Sunday, May 24: Regular Sunday School and Morning Worship. 2:30 p.m. Ministerial Alliance of Hope in charge. Sermon, Elder O. N. Dennis, pastor of Church of God in Christ, Hope. Guest Churches are: Union Chapel, Prescott; Rising Star, Lonoke, Mt. Zion, Bee Bee Memorial, all of Hope; Macedonia, Brougham; Macedonia of Prescott and Antioch of Emmet.

Saturday, May 23

BeBe Youth Chapter No. 412 OES will sponsor a weiner roast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Craton Epps Saturday night, May 23. The public is invited.

A weiner roast will be held at the home of Mrs. Geneva Moses Saturday night, May 23. This is a project of the Yeger Band Mother's Uniform Drive which is now in progress.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Hempstead County Home Demonstration Council will not be held on Saturday, May 23 as scheduled. A call meeting to make plans for the annual Experiment Station Visiting Day will be held at a later date, according to Miss E. L. Ford, Assistant HD Agent for Negro Work. Notices for this meeting will be sent to all members.

Sunday, May 24

The Melody Five Spiritual Singers of Magnolia will present a program at Mt. Pleasant CME Church, Two Mile Branch Community, Sunday, May 24 at 7:30 p.m. This program is being sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Turner. The public is invited.

Monday, May 25

A one-week revival will be held at Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church, Prescott, beginning Monday, May 25. Rev. W. L. Martin, pastor of Mt. Harmony Baptist Church of Pine Bluff, Ark. will be speaker.

Rev. David Burton of Dmalla, Neb. son of Rev. Ollie Burton will conduct a revival at Mt. Calvary Baptist Church May 24-28. Rev. P. Turner, pastor.

The Central Mission Department of Bismarck Baptist Church will hold its meeting at the church on Monday, May 25 at 2:30 p.m. special feature of the meeting will be a sermon preached by the pastor, Rev. M. S. Riley. All mission societies of the city are invited. Mrs. Jewel Witherspoon, president.

Coming And Going

Mrs. Cardell Williamson and son James, have gone to Chicago and will attend the wedding of another son, Joe Williamson and Miss Carol Dobbs.

Obituary Notice

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Trotter will be held Sunday, May 24 at 11 a.m. at Macedonia Baptist Church, Columbia. Burial will be in Macedonia Cemetery with Hicks Funeral Home in charge.

Eight all-steel caskets now in use on the Badger and Argosch Road in Maine. Were troop sleepers during World War II.

Funeral Directors

Ambulance Service
Burial Association
OAKCREST FUNERAL HOME
Dial PR 7-2123

Services Offered

LET US renovate your old mattress. We specialize in pressure-innerspring.

COBB MATTRESS SHOP
712 West 4th Phone 7-2622

SINGER SEWING MACHINE CO.
Sales and Service, 513 East 3rd.
L. E. Booth, Phone PR 7-6005.

For Sale

ALUMINUM screens, doors, GLASS AND MIRRORS
AND GLASS CO.
222 E. 3rd St. Phone 7-6014

STUDIO piano, Will sell right. Phone 7-4975.

160 ACRES, 4 miles South of Prescott. Modern house with furniture, 45'x47' barn. All in good condition. Super C tractor with equipment, 31 head of cattle, 4 cows to freshen soon. Terms on part L. L. Phipps, 213 Box 102, Prescott, Ark. Phone TUXE 7-2389.

5 ROOM, modern house, 200 acres 4 miles Northwest Hope. Hen-House, 2,300 capacity. On School bus route, Phone 7-3019, Creighton Lance.

FOR Sale by owner, 4 bedroom home with 2 baths, living room, dining room, kitchen and Air conditioned Den. On large 147 by 145 foot lot, only 4 blocks from City Hall, 2 car garage, play house and another building. 7 good pecan trees on lot. Ideal for large family. Price, $8500. Will finance FHA. Call 7-5816.

3 BEDROOM home on large shady corner lot near high school. Shown by appointment. Call PR 7-5530.

Real Estate for Sale

Hot yesterday and last night too—90° degrees in the shade. But in the new Gunter 3 bedroom home we have to offer you it was a cool comfortable 70 degrees. Why suffer from the heat when you can trade in your present home on this lovely home with built-in stoves and wall oven—F. H. A. Loan approved for 10% down payment. It costs nothing to look and figure—Call us

FOSTER LAND & REALTY COMPANY

Phone PR 7-4691 or PR 7-3400

22-3te

Standings

Saturday Baseball

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

American League

Cleveland W. L. Pct. G. B.

Chicago 22 11 667 1/2

Baltimore 21 15 583 2/3

Kansas City 15 18 455 7

Washington 17 21 447 7/8

Boston 15 19 444 7/8

Detroit 13 21 382 9/16

New York

EXECUTIVE OFFICE BLDG.

NOTICE
SIDE WALK SUPTS.
NO MORE STIFF NECKS
WATCH WITH EASE
ON THE SPOT IF YOU PLEASE

NO STIFF NECKS—Sidewalk superintendents in Toledo watch progress on a new 15-story building by a closed-circuit television system. Suggestions are requested on way to get huge mobile crane down when work is finished.

SAY "CHEESE"—Leila Williams offers her shoulder to mouse, Johns in London, Leila, Miss England of 1957, made a pet of Johns after they appeared in a motion picture together.

AT CANNES—The annual film festival at Cannes, France, attracts many of the movies' top names. Relaxing at the Riviera resort is actress Dawn Addams.

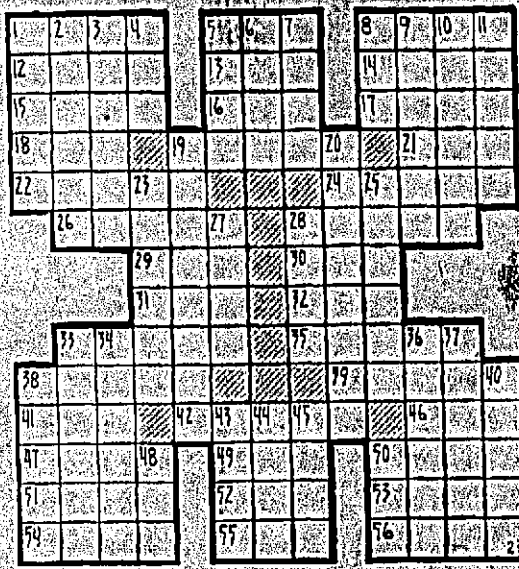

HEALTH-QUEEN—Barbara Lyon reigns over a food-laden table as Miss Good Health at Chicago convention of the National Restaurant Association.

In South America

ACROSS
1 South American country
2 The _____ is its monetary unit
3 Its capital
4 War god
5 of Greece
6 Lancelot's nickname
7 Biblical garden
8 Narrow inlet
9 River (clay)
10 Low tides
11 Marlin's direction
12 Perfume
13 Goddess of Infatuation
14 Leases
15 Stage performer
16 Opposed to ice
17 Guide
18 Ret. flax by exposure
19 Before
20 American writer
21 Classics
22 Trap
23 Lover of Daphnis
24 Puff up
25 Wand
26 Great fear
27 Century (ab.)
28 At all times
29 Possessive pronoun
30 Fifth
31 Nuisance
32 Sunk up

DOWN
1 Father
2 Exquisite
3 Precipitate
4 Employ
5 Seasoning
6 Death notice
7 Girl's name
8 Conducted 9 Form a notion
10 Friend of Cayssoda
11 Genius of gods
12 Declared
13 A jotted
14 Blunder
15 Breakfast food
16 Female salish (ab.)
17 Eavesdropper
18 Pages
19 Must aged 20 Cliché
21 Wisconsin
22 Everlasting
23 (poet)
24 Obscured
25 Penetrate
26 Get up
27 Famous
28 English school
29 Vipers
30 Routes (ab.)
31 Parent

TIZZ

By Kate Osan

"As long as we don't know any gossip, let's make some up!"

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

MORTY MEEKLE

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE

CARNIVAL

By Dick Turner

"Now remember! If you should find the party dull—just leave it that way!"

SWEETIE PIE

By Nadine Salzer

"How can you count the calories? I don't even see them!"

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"If you didn't know me, Dad, how much salary would you say I'd be worth?"

PRISCILLA'S POP

By J. R. Williams

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

With Major Hoople

Except The LORD Build The HOUSE They Labor In Vain That Build It

Stand Up!

...it makes the "counting of heads" much easier. But when one stands one should be sure he stands for something. No need waiting for tomorrow. It may be too late to register a vote. It is quite easy to persuade one's pooch to stand, to register his want.

It is quite a different thing when we ask a friend, a neighbor to vote an issue.

Perhaps we should be more anxious to make a choice. God said, "Choose ye this day whom you will serve." It would be a better world if we would bounce to our feet to be counted, when God, the church, friends or family are in jeopardy. Sound footing will help when vital issues are at stake. May we hold fast to right, to God, and when we come to stand up in judgment, before the "book of life" we shall not be afraid.

We shall be standing for something.

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

This Series of Church Ads Is Being Published Through the Cooperation of Local Ministers and Is Sponsored By The Undersigned Individuals and Business Institutions

Bruner-Ivory Handle Co.
W. G. Bruner

Corn Belt Hatcheries of Arkansas

Herndon-Cornelius Funeral Home
R. V. Herndon — R. V. Herndon, Jr.

Childs Food Store
Don Simpson

Crescent Drug Store
Frank Douglas

Feeders Supply Company
"Aurora Feeds and Supplies"
Lynn Frank, Mgr.

Hoey Down Town Texaco Service Station
120 E. 3rd — Phone PR 7-3333

Perry's Truck Stop
Perry Campbell, Owner

Main Pharmacy
Mrs. Jim Martindale
J. Ross Moore — George W. Lambert

Hope Hardware Company
120 So. Elm St. Phone PR 7-2271

Graydon Anthony Lumber Company
"Kilo Dried Yellow Pine"

Montgomery Grocery & Market
Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Montgomery

Hope Novelty Company
O. Q. Temple

W. Shanhouse Sons, Inc.

Gunter Retail Lumber Company
W. H. Gunter

Eula's Grocery & Market
Mr. and Mrs. Theo Bonds Ph. PR 7-5881

Tal-E-Tex Oil Company
1712 E. 3rd. Phone PR 7-3270

Rephan's Department Store

Hope Basket Company
Walker Verhalen

Hefner & Gaines Used Cars, Inc.
203 West 3rd — Phone PR 7-2358

Hope Auto Company
Your Friendly Ford & Edsel Dealer
Tom McElarty — Frank McElarty

Cox Bros. Foundry & Machine Co.
Charlie Cox

E. E. Davis Oldsmobile Company
500 South Walnut St. Phone PR 7-3461

Hope Wrecking Company
J. Q. Whitley

Southwest Wood Products
Homer Boyerly — Frank King

Hope Beverage Company
Al Page

Trading Post — Lincoln-Mercury
Jim James and Ray Turner

Duckett Scrap Iron & Metal Company
William M. Duckett

James Cleaners
Mr. and Mrs. W. F. James

Hope Nursery & Floral Company
Mrs. Roy Stephenson

Coleman Garage
321 So. Laurel — Phone PR 7-3213

Brentley's Texaco Service
"Your Gillette Tire Dealer"
3rd & Washington — Phone PR 7-3931

The Ninety and Nine Were Safe; — But One! ?